

THE 1947
HEMATITE

Dear Evelyn,

I guess I just had you in one class this year, history that is. It was just thought I wish I could've been in the last unit earlier in the year. I hope I get to see you sometime this summer, and have you in more of my classes next year. Lots of love in the future.

Jane Huffer

Dear Evelyn,

Bay's still angry to be good. I'm doing in kind of a hurry. Just back into. I'm writing Chelan. Love Luvvies.

Well anyway it's been real "immediately" following your the year. Hope to see I have more of your next year. Luck to a damn cut to a small small girl.

Dene.

Dear Evelyn,
Well, kids, another year has passed. You know that fatal day of graduation. It will be fatal too. Cause all the kids will drift apart. I'm sure I'll enjoy it while we can. I'll write down all those things I'll never forget. I'll remember if they're in the last page. Turn to the last page.

Dear Evelyn
Just remember
See you next year
Lots of luck to the girl with the best dress, at least yours wasn't the same color.
Have a good time next year.

Dearest "Eve,"

"Ive may be blind but so am I. I'm starting to open my eyes, but the wider they get the foolier I am." I have treated you pretty rough. You're a swell kid, the guy the gets you. won't have a damn thing to complain about I knew you for a long time and you're the nicest girl I have ever met. I wish you all the luck in the world, and may all your wishes come true.

Nothing more to say so I'll continue some other time. I hope we can remain friends for ever. maybe you can make it more than that.

Dear Evelyn, you at this time are just at the new school. I hope you will think you are here. I see you may have many new friends.

Dear Evelyn,
It's been well knowing you in my middle class. Well, wishing a good luck
to you.
Best wishes to a good girl for the coming year

CLUBS SPORTS ACTIVITIES

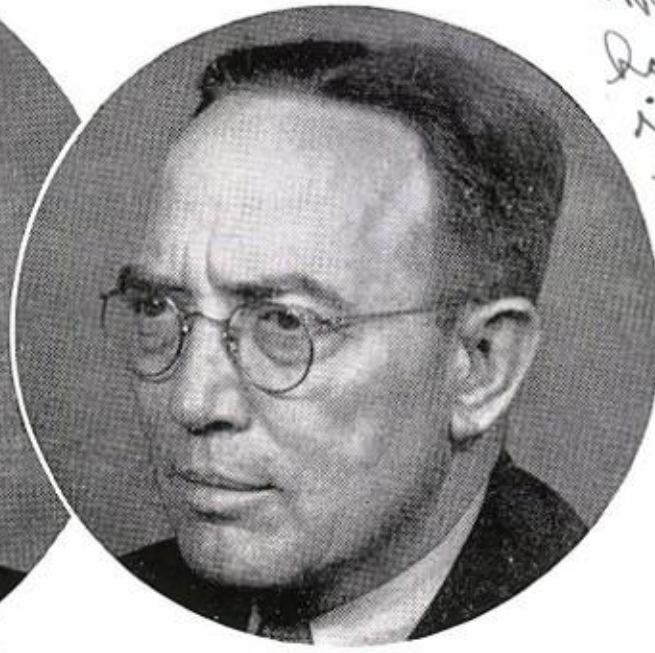

Dear Evelyn
In case you don't know it, I went with 2 of the boys you went with in your long list of lovers. Next year I said what I mean. Club. Pick on come. If you get hats of Juanne Garb.

Dear Evelyn,
It seems as tho it was only yesterday that we were in the sixth grade together - remember? Now we're only one year of dear old high school left. Here's wishing a swell kid lots of luck in the coming year. Ronnie Marinelli

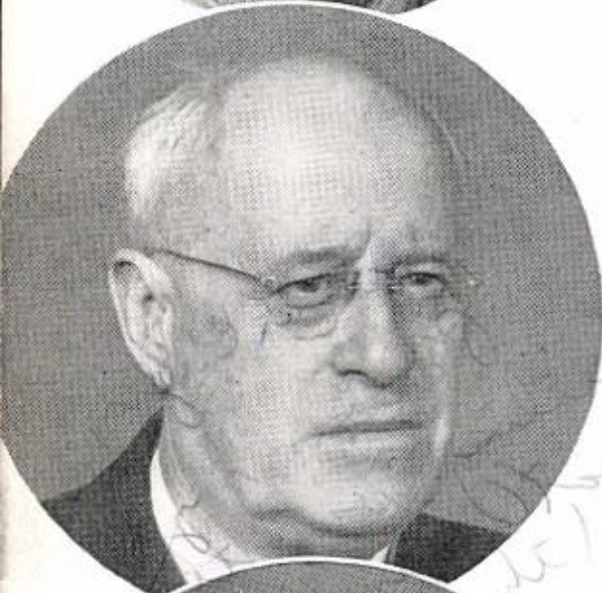

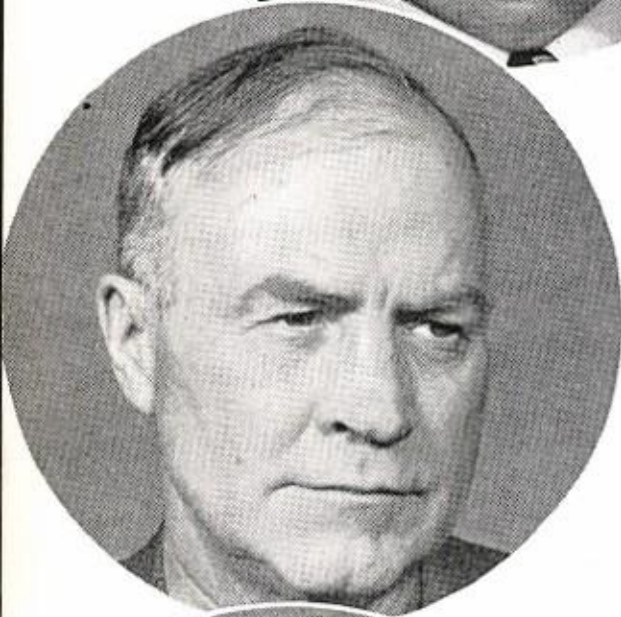

72 Dear Evelyn,
Pardon my spelling. Join the one of never get around to dancing with it the teen-age. Well see what next year brings. If you BB team can give you a good showing next year as this. Best of luck and all. Frank Devereaux

With a finger in almost every pie, we juniors used our time and talents to make this year one of achievement. Contributing to drama, we presented "Don't Take My Penny," with Doris Popovich in the leading role. We'll always remember the fun we had rehearsing for the play. Miss Louise Gellerman, our adviser, helped us with the many problems that arose during the year. "Suddenly It's Spring" was the theme of the annual junior-senior promenade held on May 2. Apple blossoms and flower-laden trellises provided an enchanting background for the grand march led by the class president, Dennis Ryan. Need it be said that we all had a wonderful time? The junior boys took a front seat in sports with representatives on all major squads, and girls, too, were athletically minded with many members in the GAA. All school clubs, the band, and the chorus included our names on their rosters.

"Do things," the motto of our sophomore class, was more than lived up to in the year of '47. Stacia O'Grady's orchestra played at the long-awaited party held in April. We spent the evening dancing and playing games in the gymnasium which was brightly decorated with tulips, and plenty of food brought the party to a climax. Miss Irene Page, class adviser, and James Bresnahan, class president, directed the "shindig." The tenth-grade boys were especially active in the sports' field, and they made a very good showing on the basketball, swimming, track, and hockey teams. We sophomore girls didn't take a back seat when it came to sports, either. Many of us were members of the GAA and could play a first-rate game of basketball and volleyball. Sophomores were among the most enthusiastic rooters at all the football and basketball games.

We are the freshmen of 1947. We try to make up for our lower rank by our accomplishments in activities. We have members trying out for football, for swimming, for hockey, for baseball, and for that game with the bottomless basket. Some of our girls have real cheerleading ability. We find others hitting the high notes in chorus and avoiding the sour ones in band. The annual party held in May was the most hilarious and jolliest occasion of the year. Miss Mary Langford helped to plan the evening; hence there were games for all, no dull moments, and lots of good food. The party will long be remembered as a good beginning for all the future parties of the class. Dark moments were of short duration, thanks to Miss Mary Loney, our adviser. The year has been a busy one, although we may have appeared carefree.

Below: English dictation finds two students looking very businesslike. Neil, would it help if Susan spelled the word?

Bet we'll never see the boys in a fashion parade, but here's what they looked like as they stepped across the stage in 1947. Taking a glimpse up there, we noticed that that male animal either had hair or he hadn't! Clee trained his raven locks to form beautiful waves, while George just got rid of the stuff and sported the ever-popular "butch." When it came to sweaters, the boys proved to be stiff competition for the girls. Some swell bait for sweater-lovers were Gordon's and Roger's colorful "ski" sweaters. What could we say about belts? Nothing except that they were of the variety that were used when the first Hematite came out, and the belts worn by Dan and Gary were no exceptions. Casting a last downward glance we came upon faded overalls rolled up high enough to keep out of the way of scuffed clodhoppers commonly known as shoes.

What are little girls made of? Well, in 1947 it happened to be straight bangs, bright sweaters, wide belts, and black suede loafers.
 Straight bangs came in with a bang! Every day someone tried her hand with scissors.
 If Mary Ann and Virginia cut their own, they're to be congratulated! Sweaters this year were of all kinds. "Ski" sweaters displayed everything from reindeer to roosters like Rosann's. Frances' slang sweater pictured the latest jabberwocky of the day. Something new in sweaters was the monogrammed cardigan and slipover. Usually worn with tucked-in sweaters and plaid skirts with loads of pleats or "sack" dresses, belts were of all styles and colors. Illustrating this are Luella and Irene who have really snappy wide belts. With saddles as a close second, black sling-heeled loafers were the most popular shoe worn for all occasions.

"Where do we go today?" It really must have been fun for Hi Times staff members to publish the All-Range edition just before the basketball tournaments. Trips to Nashwauk, Buhl, Keewatin, and other range towns were made in order that Hibbing students become acquainted with different schools and promote better sportsmanship. Papers were again entered in the Quill and Scroll contest and the National Scholastic Press critical service. One of the projects undertaken by the staff was to stock the journalism press shelf with books. At a press meeting held in Duluth, Jack Anderson, the editor, and Alfred Diehl were instructed in methods of publicizing the Christmas seal drive. Miss Kate White is the adviser, and as in former years, Mr. Marc Atkinson printed the paper.

Circle: Just off the press, the latest issue of the Hi Times is given a final once over by the staff and Mr. Marc Atkinson.

Competition was stiff between the two journalism classes which alternated printing the paper. Gossip was taboo, but the Hi Times was as full of news as usual and had more pictures than ever. The reporters and the staff really took their journalism ethics seriously this year. For instance, reporters knew who the elected homecoming queen was, but not a word was said until the surprise announcement came out in the paper. Besides the large number of school subscriptions, seventy-six servicemen received free copies of the Hi Times.

Row one: Dean Sather, Gerald Bombardier, Russell Summer. Row two: Elaine Knowles, Jane Aronson, Louise Wolf, Joan Carlson, Gloria Weir, Alice Aslakson, Gladys Aho. Row three: Dorothy Syversrud, Margaret Lyckholm, Harold Birke-land, Dorothy Olien, Fred Heine, Julie Aron-son, Darlene Samson.

Talk about "seeing things!" The Hematite staff peered through everything from keyholes to stereoscopes to find out what the students of Hibbing High were doing. Miss Elizabeth Pritchard, the yearbook art supervisor, followed by Co-editors Pat DeVaney and Concetta Infelise, trudged through the halls with lamps, camera, and tripod. Dan Remington, business manager, was usually at his desk directing the sales and advertising campaigns. As adviser to the staff, Miss Ruth Monfore was always ready with new ideas about seeing things.

Just mention High School Day to any one of the forty members of the Girls' League who participated and watch her eyes light up. It was the highlight of the entire year, beginning with breakfast at the Androy, speaking over the radio, and being a Herberger clerk for one perfect day. That was just one of the many activities which kept club members, Miss Ruth Quigley, adviser, and the president, Lois Peters, busy throughout the year. A Bunny Hop instead of the Gingham Ball was held in the spring, and everyone had loads of fun. May was a month to look forward to, and with it came the Mothers' Tea. It was a wonderful opportunity for mothers, teachers, and girls to become acquainted. The poster committee was kept busy each week hanging those clever posters "Your High School Record"—Does it count?

and foreseen of the members of the National Honor Society. These students were chosen as members by a faculty committee because of their character, high scholastic standings, and outstanding leadership abilities. Evidences of these qualities were shown as members took on responsibilities in many school organizations while keeping up their superior scholastic ratings. As a group, they took charge of the change booth and coat checking booth at the harvest festival.
In the spring was the much-talked-of initiation at which Miss Mary Barron, faculty adviser, was assisted by Julie Aronson, president. Members could be easily recognized by the gold pins adorned with the torch of knowledge which they wore so proudly.*

Membership in the H-Club was increased this year due to the additional sports of hockey, skiing, and wrestling. This club is considered an honor society for all boys who participate in sports and have earned a letter. Their greatest accomplishment was ushering at the basketball games and district and regional tournaments. With the help of their adviser, Mario Retica, and the president, Nick Karahalios, the members secured pictures of previous teams to hang on the walls of the boys' dressing rooms and the gym corridor.

Loads of ideas were gathered by the four Student Council delegates at the Northwest Federation meeting held in Superior, Wisconsin, this fall. There they learned about the activities of other student councils and told of their own enterprises. The vets were represented for the first time this year and many of their problems were discussed at the meetings. A number of activities were arranged for by the advisers, Mr. G. A. Ogden and Mr. S. A. Elmes, in order to keep the halls clear during the noon hour. These included dancing, movies, and games. The safety committee, appointed by the president, Dario Monti, met regularly with the village safety committee to plan methods of accident prevention. The hilarious talent show kept us howling from beginning to end.

Frequent Meetings, Sales, and Skits

Seeking aid for the less fortunate children through the National Children's Fund was the chief aim of the Junior Red Cross Council. With the help of the advisers, Miss Helen Scott and Miss Lewella Penrod, the council was always busy with some activity, such as a rummage sale, the presentation of "Heidi," and the campaigning for contributions in home rooms. Of course, there were many other activities: Christmas baskets were filled for the needy; gifts were sent to patients in hospitals; holiday favors were sent to Navy ships; and scrapbooks were sent to the polio patients. At the annual Junior Red Cross assembly, chairman of the council, Kathryn Lerch, told us of her experience as a delegate when she attended the National Convention at Philadelphia last summer.

"Hibbing High School On the Air," a new weekly feature sponsored by the Hi-Y, was one of the most talked-of events of the school year. In an effort to create adult interest, representatives of various school organizations told about the different activities undertaken by the clubs. Aided by their advisers, Mr. Kenneth Torgerson and Mr. C. A. MacMiller, the club launched the first social affair of the school year, the annual mixer. Directed by their president, Evarist Buzzelli, they helped the Red Cross and Student Council in their many activities. The exciting tour through the hall of horrors at the harvest festival was sponsored and conducted by the club. A special project was the sending of food, clothing, and other articles to a needy family in Berlin.

Circle: Not the evening meal for the Hi-Y, but the donations of rations for a German family are being packed by the boys.

Seated: Kenneth Filori, Mr. MacMiller, adviser, Gerald Bombardier, Evarist Buzzelli, president, Russell Summer, Roland Marinelli. Standing: Mr. Torgerson, adviser, Willard Whitman, Daniel DeVaney, Ray Randall, Nick Karahalios, Harold Rutstein, Daniel Young, William Magie, Don Nelson, Bob Martinson, Jerome Murphy.

Students were attracted by that military swagger of the Veterans Club members. Aided by their adviser, Mr. John Coschignano, they organized a very active club, electing George Spanish, president. The Atomic Dance was their first social activity, and it proved to be one of the year's best. Their souvenir booth was one of the most popular at the harvest festival. Everyone enjoyed listening to their quintet at the talent show. The main function of the club was to help the veteran make his general adjustment to school life.

Knew and Fought for What Was Fair

"Kansas City, here we come!" was the shout of five FFA members as they set out for the national convention last fall. Accompanied by their adviser, Mr. S. J. Ojakangas and the president, William Kantos, these fortunate boys make the most of their seven days' stay by meeting other farm boys, well-known celebrities, and attending the American Royal Livestock Show. During the first part of August the boys attended the district summer camp at Arrowhead Lake and made a tour of the potato-growing country. They were also present at the annual district banquet held at Esko, Minnesota, last fall. For the first time the group entered the national chapter contest. A program of work was submitted, and the list of accomplishments will be sent in next September.

Circle: By the look on Walter's face, he must be hauling in the last load of pulpwood. How many loads does that make?

This year again the project of the FFA chapter was timber cutting. Seven carloads of timber products were cut and sold. In this way the club made several hundred dollars for their treasury and won a fifty dollar war bond for cutting the greatest amount of timber. The organization also carried on a recreational program which included inter-chapter basketball games and swimming meets. Five members of this active club attended the state FFA convention in St. Paul and the district meeting in Virginia, Minnesota, last fall.

Young Farmers Working Side by Side

Not only are the high school students interested in the 4-H Club, but the work of the members is known by all Hibbingites. During the Hibbing Jubilee celebration, their display of a modern kitchen and an old-fashioned one in the front of the J. C. Penney store won first place in window decorations. The 4-H Club had charge of the refreshment booth at the harvest festival and also checked coats at the Hi-Y Mixer. One-act plays were produced by the various clubs in March, and the winning play was then presented in Duluth.

That Fred Waring program presented by the Schubert Chorus was a real treat for everyone. What would Christmas be like without the carols of the Chorus? They sang at two yuletide programs in the auditorium and again sang in the school halls and throughout the "Curtain going up!" We are about to view the Masquer-Thespian accomplishments for this year. With the admission of twenty-six new members the club became more active. As part of the initiation ceremonies, all fledglings were required to learn ten lines of Shakespeare. Putting their talents as make-up artists to use, the members established a flourishing business at the harvest festival nail polishing booth. Club members enjoyed wearing their pins, the comedy and tragedy masks symbolic of dramatics. *His ring really look

Furthering the dramatic ability of talented students was the aim of the Masquers and Thespians. Their annual three-act play was back on our list of activities, and what a play it was! "Nine Girls" was one of the first psychological mysteries produced in the auditorium. Many of the members added variety to their knowledge of the arts by helping with the weekly radio broadcast. Now after an interesting year, Clarence Flynn, president, and Mrs. Loretta Strande, adviser, ring down the curtain on another season of dramatics.

"I feel it—here." Penny clutched her heart, and the audience clutched their sides in what proved to be one of the best junior class plays ever presented. Penny, a teen-age siren, starts the row when she reads in the local newspaper that Harrison Day, the great author, will visit her home town searching for Dimity West, the girl star for the movie of his book. Kerry, Penny's friend, is determined to discourage her Hollywood ambitions. After an adventure of comedies, Penny decides that the life of a dramatic actress is not for her.

Suspense begins when sensible Jane relates the weird adventure of a group of girls who had previously used the abandoned clubhouse in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. Athletic "Shotput" on her forcible entrance announces the disappearance of Paula. Reports are later received that Paula has been found—murdered. A letter from Paula to Alice, her only true friend, begins to arouse suspicion. The next day Alice is found dead, apparently a suicide. Mary, a sorority sister from a poor family, is accused by Eve, and after a murder attempt, confesses.

Above: Members of the art classes further publicity of "Nine Girls." The sign attracted attention of many in the hall.

Top: "I'm terribly bored. This is such a quiet life for me," sighs unpopular Glamorpuss as the disgusted gang looks on.

Middle: Unaware of the impending tragedy, the nine girls gather to discuss the latest gossip on the college campus.

Bottom: "Alice—in the closet—dead!" sobs startled Shirley. The others stand horror-stricken at the dreadful discovery.

SPORTS

Bert Dent
Football Coach

With brightly colored flares lighting the gridiron, the retarded football season got underway with the Greenway eleven challenging the Bluejackets on home ground. In the opener, Coach Bert Dent's boys scored a 19-0 victory in spite of the hard-fighting Greenies. Due to superb football skill in the line as well as in the backfield, the Bluejackets scored once in each of the first three periods. The opposition threatened only once, when it reached the Jackets' 10-yard line in the second quarter, where they were repulsed. Eager to double their first win, the Hibbing gridmen threw their strength against Chisholm, the traditional foe. Outplayed in every position, the team was able to muster only five first downs. In the first five minutes of the game, the Bluestreaks had pushed over for their first touchdown, and by scoring again in the second half, they handed the Bluejackets a 14-0 defeat. The game was similar to the one in 1945, for it was played in a drizzling rain. Sparked by Captain Dick Archie, the Hibbing gridgers displayed their best form of the season by overcoming a 12 point deficit in the third and fourth quarters to hand the Virginians their first defeat of the season by a 13-12 count. In spite of a snow-covered field, both teams played good football. In the last game of Range competition, the Bluejackets showed their power, making eleven first downs to the Eveleth Bears' five. Although Hibbing lost a touchdown on a 70-yard run for holding in the second half, the team nevertheless doubled the opponent's score 13 to 6 to win the game. A blocked punt in the last four minutes of play enabled the Ironwood Red Devils to tie the score with the hard-driving Bluejackets. Deep in the Red Devil territory time after time, the squad was repulsed, thus showing the blocking and driving ability of both teams was outstanding. After a twelve-year series, the 6-6 deadlock evened the records of the two teams that has resulted in five wins for each and two ties. The All-Range football roster showed Hibbing with two berths on the first team and two on the second. Positions awarded were left guard and fullback, left end and center.

The B Squad put accent on basic plays and game fundamentals during its period of training. First clashing with Greenway's more experienced players, the boys were outclassed, 14 to 0. Next tackling Chisholm, the team played the Streaks on even terms until the last half when Chisholm rallied to out-score them, 14 to 7. In the following fray under the lights at Grand Rapids, the gridmen were only a few feet from a touchdown when the final whistle blew, losing the game, 13 to 6. To complete the football season, the B Squad again played at Chisholm where the boys sustained a 27-7 defeat.

Scoring the winning touchdown, Motherway, fullback, drags a Virginia player with him as he crosses the goal line, resulting in a 13 - 12 victory.

Height! Poise! Power! These set the pace for the Blue-jackets who captured the District 28 trophy for the first time since 1928. Rallying game after game, the squad tallied twenty-one consecutive wins in the interscholastic games to carry the district and capture five berths on the all-district and regional teams. Big Fork, in the opening contest of the season, received a thorough 63-21 trouncing at the hands of the Jackets. The Hibbing eagers then received the only setback of the season when they fell to the speedy Buhl Bulldogs by a 35-27 scoring. The squad kept in trim, however, by defeating Nashwauk, 33 to 31, Keewatin, 66 to 25, and Eveleth, 59 to 32. At the holiday rally on the local floor, Bemidji sustained a 36-49 loss by the Jacket basketballers, and Crosby-Ironton was tilted by a 43-23 count. The Grand Rapids Indians next fell prey when the Jackets defeated them, 43 to 23. Chisholm was next defeated, 45 to 32, and Keewatin, 42 to 23. Superior height and playing ability also netted the Blue and White a 32-25 victory over Greenway, followed by a 47-40 overthrow given Nashwauk. The squad set back Grand Rapids 51 to 44, Chisholm, 43 to 31, Ely, 47 to 29, Virginia, 41 to 32, and Coleraine, 54 to 36. The Hibbing Five then evened the count with Buhl, defeating them, 37 to 30, on the local floor. To Duluth Denfeld went the team where the basketballers defeated an evenly matched five, 36 to 35. Winding up in the district, Keewatin and Nashwauk, by scores of 49 to 21, and 44 to 36, were outplayed by the Bluejackets. The Buhl Bulldogs, in an overtime thriller, lost the district title to the Bluejackets, 32 to 29. This triumph qualified them for regional play. The squad lost the regional, 35-32, to Denfeld, who went on to capture the state crown by outscoring Crosby-Ironton.

Again as state champions, the swimming squad returned another trophy to Hibbing High. The first aquatic meet was held at Eveleth, and the tankers returned home triumphantly, having upset the Bears, 49 to 24. Success followed the first game when the squad defeated Duluth Central, 48 to 24. "Pop" Lukens then took his mermen to Ely where the Bluejackets lost to their host, 35 to 38. Swimming against their alumni, the Bluejackets downed their opponents, 46 to 26, and took first in all but one event. Hibbing then played host to Virginia; although the races were close and exciting, the mermen finished victoriously, outscoring the Virginians, 48 to 25. By using his best men sparingly, Coach Lukens' entries easily defeated Chisholm, 45 to 26. The local tankers then won over Ely, 47 to 26, to even up their previous setback by the Timberwolves. In another dual meet with Chisholm the Bluestreaks were out-classed, 45 to 28, and again the mermen took first in all but two events. At the University of Minnesota, Hibbing was defeated, 35 to 37, in a very close race by Austin, last year's champions. Clashing with teams from the Range and Duluth, the local boys landed on top with 42 points at the Virginia Invitational Meet. Their closest rival was the Ely squad with a score of 29 points.

Six squad men then left for Cooke Hall University pool where they captured the state swimming trophy from Austin by a score of 50 to 44. Hibbing had lost the state title to Austin in 1945. Sickness lessened the squad's strength considerably when it was due to compete in the AAU meet. In spite of the fact, however, Hibbing won the meet outscoring all competition with 27 points. Blake Academy, with 19, took second place. The team, although not surpassing last year's records, nevertheless rolled up substantial margins over most opposition in the majority of the meets. Diving averages were low, but the deficit was overcome by the high number of first places taken.

These Boys Showed That They Could Swim

Dear Evelyn,
Hello honey, I hope you don't mind my Hockey made a definite comeback this year with many outstanding seniors playing on the newly organized squad. Under the guiding eye of Coach "Squint" Elnes, the pucksters battled through the year with four wins and three losses. In the team's first contest, a superior Eveleth six handed them a 5-0 setback, and although Hibbing showed flashes of defensive ability, the players could not take the offensive to score. Showing some improvement over the opening game form, the team handed Duluth Cathedral a 3-1 pasting at the local rink. Again playing Cathedral High at Duluth, the team, in a fast, furious game, was the victor by a 2-0 count. Few penalties were called at this game. Elnes' men again bowed to the speedy Eveleth sextet with a 6-1 defeat. In the regional hockey tournament, the Cloquet team, due to tricky Jacket strategy, was easily defeated by the Hibbing squad. In the finals, Eveleth, in a two overtime period game, handed the team its last defeat, 5-3. Showing much improvement in defense as well as offense, the boys completed their schedule with a 4-0 win over Grand Rapids.

At the left: Holm drives in to score for Hibbing in a play against the Grand Rapids pucksters. Hibbing won, 4 to 0.

Wrestling reappeared as a part of the school athletic program, and interscholastic competition was introduced for the first time. The whole procedure proved somewhat puzzling to the fans who found difficulty in following the scoring methods. The Bluejackets' chief rival was the Agricultural School of Grand Rapids. The local matmen, coached by George Schoonover, were the victors by the score of 20 to 15 over Grand Rapids in the initial match. In a return contest at Grand Rapids, the Jackets were defeated 21 to 11 in a thrilling match. Then clashing in a rubber match, the Hibbing grapplers scored a 17-11 win over the Ag School. Eight members of the squad traveled to Mound to compete with eight other teams in the Regional Tournament. It was the first time Hibbing has been represented at a regional wrestling meet, and many Jacket entries drew champions in the first rounds. Two Hibbing entries won their first match, but later competition proved too stiff, and the squad placed fifth. Wrestling enthusiasts are hopeful that the sport will be continued in future years as interest has grown considerably.

Trackmen journeyed to Eveleth for the inaugural meet of the season. Competing there with other Range teams, the squad, coached by "Doc" Savage, turned in a fair showing. About 400 performers competed in 70 events which were dominated by the Duluth teams. Greenway played host to the Bluejackets and the Chisholm Bluestreaks at the annual triangular meet. The Greenies took eight firsts to win the meet with 68 points. Hibbing captured four firsts, placing second with 51 points. Chisholm placed third with only one first and a total of 21 points. Only one-half point was the margin by which Greenway took the District 28 track and field meet held at Chisholm. Both Greenway and Hibbing collected four firsts, but the Coleraine squad garnered 59 points to 58½ for the Bluejackets. The team consistently tied the opponents, but the final tally awarded the meet to Coleraine. In the Regional, Hibbing took third, Greenway and Eveleth taking first and second respectively. Seven of the cindermen qualified for the State Meet.

Splash! Help! Don't worry, it's just another practice session for the mermaids working to pass the Red Cross Life Saving tests given in the high school pool. Girls of sixteen and under took the junior course while the older ones qualified for the senior section. The qualifications for the seniors were stricter, and in addition to the actual swimming they were given a written test at the end of the course on the material covered in the Red Cross manual. For a period of two hours every night they learned and demonstrated all required holds and carries. After the three-week period was over, sixteen who had enrolled as juniors and six in the senior section passed with flying colors. Under the experienced guidance of Miss Laura Thibideau, another class of life savers was qualified to wear the Red Cross badge of merit. GAA intra-mural tournaments and tournaments with the Lincoln School were held in basketball, baseball, and volleyball during the fall and winter season.

Girls Crowd Swimming Pool and Gym

Basketball in GAA was the highlight of the sports year. Stress was put on game form, and season play was unusually close with all teams fighting hard in every game of the tournament. Nancy DeVaney's team captured the ninth-grade title by a score of 30 to 4, and then lost only to the school champions. When the titles for the various grades had been won, the winners played each other for the school title. Although the junior and senior classes each entered only one team, they put up a good fight. The sophomores were the victors, 16 to 8, in the final game with Marjorie Stangfield's seniors. This winning team was led to victory by Joanne Lauber.

Dear "Eve" - Well here at last. I really don't know where to begin. I guess in the Lincoln school is the best place well after that appears "I hate the first time" wishing will make it so "came true. Really, we were too happy girls. Wasn't that fun? Remember that little episode before we went into the maid-rite? If you don't know - figure it out yourself. Well - your "love" life is going full speed & don't let anyone stop it! I'll be seeing you some 7 years from now (I guess) and find a whole household of kids, etc, such as cats, dogs, & etc. Of course you will have a husband, & etc. I guess we always patch them up. Friendship never runs smooth, but let's make a good stab at it again. Let's go along the right way - Well all the luck, etc. etc. etc. comes your way from me. I'll see you during the summer & next year. One of the long

Dear "Eve",

Remember when we were in school together at the Washington. It was fun having you in my class. I want to meet a sweet girl leader of luck & success in the future. An old friend

How will make out next year. I hope I have you in a couple of classes next year, I could use the answers. Loads of luck and all that sort of stuff.

Duty

Dear "Eve" I'll always remember you as my answer book in English. I don't know what you'd remember me for though. By the way, we never thought we'd have an English class like Monrovia last year did we. Well, we suffered through one year of it, and I remember I don't know how I'll make out next year. I hope I have you in a couple of classes next year, I could use the answers. Loads of luck and all that sort of stuff.

- for me June 2, 1947

Dearest, Darling, "Ernie"

I know that you're very much up in the clouds today. Don't tell me that little bit of wing did all that? um - it worked wonders, hm? Since you're so happy, whatever I write, should make you happy, no matter what it turns out to be - right? Well I suppose we've had our share of fun this year, too. There's always room for more of course. I'll never forget the J.D. - just cuz it was a farmal etc. but look whom I was with. sk-hi Brother I was happy. Cause I was more happy after the Ten Age that night & surprises of surprises.

Of course, I can't leave out the rites we doubled date with Norman I can't. You know - shows Wayne, other places - The observation stand too - we have nice air in Hibbing, don't we?

I guess we've had our fights too. That's only natural, isn't it? they don't mean much, do they? I sure hope not -

When I'm gone this summer, you're gonna come see me, aren't you? Bay, you'd better or else I'll just shoot you. 'also keep trust of my flames, will you? You'd be doing me a great & favor - you no who I mean - too love - then the most I'll be so firing - not being with you - this year - I no you'll write to me tho - you must. Tell me everything that goes on. How come I could write so much last year. Course that took in & yes, didn't it? This is only one - It's no use to say 'member this & 'member that - none of us will forget the "stuff" our gang has done, will we? I'll just have to say 'member all the joyous things we've done - also all the "stanks" & being late today & skipping school.

Thank again for all the favor you've done me - you no what I mean. Also for getting my Hematite. Have a lovely summer & I hope I see you sometime - always the same - love - Joe

Dear Eve,
Here I am again - somebody took my other place.
Well maybe I should follow suit and scribble down a few remembers. O.K.?
There's Pine Beach, of course, who can forget those ventful, fun-filled days. More fun!!! There was this spring J.D. too - really fun, huh? Cripes there's soooooomany I don't think there'll be room for them all. And somebody else will probably have to use this space. So, hon, I'll just wish one of the swellest gals I know - loads of fun, luck (with Darrel) & happiness. Come up and visit a sometime (you know when).

Dear Eve, I don't know you very well but I like what I do know. Does that make sense? I do. To me. Vign
Your pal and one of the gang

Well, haven't seen much of you this past year. Where you keeping yourself? That cabin last summer. Don't forget it & G. & I sang some the balls?
Take it easy on the summer. Good luck next year. Love a pal. Sweet Zubovitch
(Eve)

Dear Eve I just seen
you. I mean when I said
I know what I said.
Blande - who's that cute gals - that's right you see you around. P.B.

Dear Eve,
Bally - another year gone by already. Remember the fun we had on all of our Sunday excursions in Donna's limousine - More fun!
History - still gives me the creeps thinking about it. We never had our walk done - me at least. Never forget the good times we had at the Lincoln Ch. I had I wish we were still back there. Oh, yes, I almost left out the remember of the dear old English class. Bay did we have for her - even now - on the last day of school I'm supposed to be writing a them but who works on the last day I do hope we can get together some "rare" times. Well, pal to the gal with the pretty green eyes - Here's a big hug & a kiss and my wishes for a bright and happy future.
